

Tuition fees

At RMIT, tuition fee payments are made each semester, on a course-by-course basis.

Below are the tuition fees applicable to students who are new to the University and enrolled in a Higher Education program in 2026.

Fees for continuing students in 2026 will be published separately on the student website. If you are unsure on how tuition fees apply to you, or if you want to learn more, please refer to the Student Fees & Charges Guide or contact us via our enquiries email address. Notes about tuition fees

1. RMIT Vietnam has 3 semesters per year, in each semester you enrol into a maximum of 3 courses. The duration of programs is flexible and can be adapted on an individual basis upon enrolment.
2. Program fees are priced and invoiced in Vietnamese Dong (VND) by semester. Payments are made each semester, on a course-by-course basis.
3. Payments made in foreign currencies will be converted to Vietnamese Dong (VND) based on the applicable exchange rate on the transaction date. Any currency conversion fees and related bank charges will be borne by the student.
4. Online payment via myRMIT \(https://sams.rmit.edu.au/\) is the preferred payment method, as it offers secure transactions, automatic confirmation, and faster processing.
5. Medical Insurance is compulsory for international students. Suitable medical insurance will be arranged by RMIT Vietnam on behalf of the student. Should an international student choose to arrange their own medical insurance, evidence of this must be provided before the semester begins.
6. The National Medical Insurance Fee is paid by all Vietnamese university students in Vietnam. The level of the fee is related to the minimum wage in Vietnam.
7. Medical insurance fees are subject to change without notice.
8. Fees are indicative only and subject to change based on individual enrolment. These fees apply only to 2026. For further details and terms and conditions, refer to the 2026 Student Fees and Charges Guide.
